CARRIERS ILL

The flu epidemic cut into the ranks of The Herald carriers Monday. Several regular carriers and their substitutes were ill and several routes Monday were carried by "outside subs."

Efforts to combat and check further spread of the disease in the schools.

Blackburn Urges Care Of Health

Diphtheria Spread Can Be Prevented If Proper Precautions Taken

The dismissal of city schools is no "holiday," Dr. A. D. Blackburn warned the students of Circleville high school and Corwin grade school Monday morning in the high school auditorium.

"This is no holiday," he stated, "children must stay out of movies, churches, crowded stores and other buildings where people are congregated if the threatened epidemic of diphtheria is to be forestalled."

"Diphtheria has not yet reached epidemic proportions in Circleville, but it very likely will unless necessary precautions are taken."

"It will be better for the children to be out in the open air than for them to stay inside. They should not stay in stuffy rooms," the county health officer said.

"It is a crime for any child to have diphtheria when the means of immunization are available. I have advised that every child under 16 and down to 6 months, (Continued on Page Two)

M'ARTHUR FREES JAP FARMERS

Government Ordered To Do Away With Feudal System Of Land Ownership

TOKYO, Dec. 10.—Emancipation of the Japanese farmer was ordered today in a directive issued by Gen. Douglas MacArthur calling for abolition of the feudal system of land ownership which long has held rural Japan in economic bondage.

The Japanese government was directed to accomplish the agricultural reforms in plans which must be submitted to supreme Allied headquarters by March 15, 1946.

It was understood that Allied authorities felt reform proposals which had been advanced so far by the Japanese government were inadequate.

The directive requires the following measures for improving the lot of the farmers:

1. Transfer of land ownership from absentee owners to the land operators.

2. Provisions for purchase of (Continued on Page Two)

'IKE' PROPOSED FOR PRESIDENT ON GOP TICKET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been proposed as the Republican party's 1948 presidential nominee.

Describing the new Army chief of staff as a "statesman-executive of the highest caliber," Sen. Arthur Capper, R., Kans., made the proposal last night in a radio address. He said he had not discussed the matter with Eisenhower.

Capper said the general's record as supreme Allied commander showed him to be a "statesman, a diplomat, a patriot as well as a soldier — perhaps the closest to George Washington we have ever produced in our national history."

Eisenhower is not affiliated with any political party and it is not known whether he would be receptive to an offer. Most frequently mentioned now for the GOP's 1948 presidential nomination are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 standard bearer, and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Another 25,000 G-M Employees May Walk Out; Negotiations Resume

DETROIT, Dec. 10.—A walkout threat of another 25,000 employees hung over negotiations resuming today between General Motors Corp. and the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) in an effort to settle the 20-day old strike of 175,000 union members.

In peace talks today the company faced a union challenge to make decisive concessions on the 30 percent wage gain demand or provoke a shutdown of GM appliance plants by a strike of CIO electrical workers.

UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther said bluntly that the union expected "good faith" bargaining by the company or it would consider further negotiations as "time-wasting."

Reuther said "good faith" would be denoted by one or two proposals from company negotiators: 1—an offer of wage increases in line with union demands, or 2—willingness to reveal company records for a factual determination of ability to pay.

Repeated company offers to advance wages 10 per cent have been spurned.

The UAW has asked that 25,000 employees of five major GM appliance plants to join the strike as a sympathy demonstration if the company fails to meet the "good faith" test. Reuther said he does not doubt that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union (CIO) will agree to the proposal.

UEW-CIO is negotiating with General Motors for a $2 a day wage increase, but has not raised the question of the company's ability to pay. A sympathy strike probably would throw the UEW demands into the same category as those of the UAW for the first time and possibly endanger the progress which has marked UEW-GM talks so far.

ODT SAYS IT'S YOUR HEADACHE IF YOU TRAVEL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The way the Office of Defense Transportation looks at it, it's your own headache if you try to travel during the coming holiday jam.

Deputy ODT Director Homer C. King said December promised to be the "worst travel month" yet because of heavy scheduled troop movements. But ODT isn't putting on any official pressure for civilians to stay put.

"The war's over," King said. "If people want to go places under conditions they have to face, let 'em go."

An estimated 1,000,000 servicemen will be arriving at east and west coast ports this month. About 72 per cent of all Pullmans already have been diverted to their use, and more will be pulled off regular schedules if they are needed, King said.

GEN. PATTON PARALYZED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

'Blood And Guts' Suffers Fractured Neck Vertebra And Other Injuries

CONDITION SAID SERIOUS

Wife And Army Specialist Flying To His Bedside In Germany

HEIDELBERG, Dec. 10.—Gen. George S. Patton has suffered a fractured neck vertebra and is completely paralyzed below the third cervical vertebra, an Army medical bulletin revealed today.

(The third cervical vertebra is approximately at the shoulder.)

The bulletin said a diagnosis made at 5 p. m. Sunday, about six hours after Patton was injured when an Army truck hit his car near Mannheim, also found a "posterior dislocation of the fourth cervical."

The seven cervical vertebrae form the top part of the spinal column.

A bulletin on the general's condition issued at 11 a. m. today said:

"A restless night, slept five hours, quite comfortable, completely rational, general condition satisfactory, neurologically unchanged. X-rays show almost complete reduction of the dislocation. Prognosis guarded."

In simple terms, this means the doctors were not making any forecast as to what progress can be expected.

The Sunday evening diagnosis said textually: "a fracture, simple, of the third cervical vertebra with posterior dislocation of the fourth cervical. Complete paralysis below the level of the third cervical. Prognosis guarded."

Suffered Head Wounds

The swashbuckling hero of the western front also suffered head wounds, which have been stitched. He was lying in a first floor Army hospital room, guarded by white helmeted military police with orders to keep everybody outside of hearing distance of the room.

Patton's wife was enroute by air from Washington, accompanied by Col. R. Glenn Spurling, a leading Army neurology surgeon.

ALEUTIANS MAIL REPORTED LOST DURING STORM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—If you've sent a Christmas letter or package to that fellow in the Aleutians you may have it to do all over again.

The war department announced that most Christmas mail for the Aleutians addressed to APO 729 c/o Postmaster, Seattle, and originating in the U. S. between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 was lost in a violent storm while being transhipped by small surface craft.

Because of the loss the postoffice will accept Christmas packages for this address up to Dec. 20, it will do so without the usually required request from the soldier for mailings outside the appointed period for Christmas mail.

Wins His Battle

AFTER a long uphill battle for life, six-year-old Patrick Carden, above, of Youngstown, O., is through the skill of surgery, on the road to health. The boy was born with his bladder outside his abdomen and at the time doctors claimed he would die "within several days." He has undergone two operations, however, and will be subjected to a third next Spring. After that, Patrick will be romping with his dog, "Skipper," shown here, and playing football with the kids.

WAR PREVENTION CAN SAVE WORLD

Atomic Power Experts Say Another War Would Destroy World

DENVER, Dec. 10.—Atomic power experts, social science workers and educators, supporting the Truman-Atlee-King proposal for a commission to control atomic energy, agreed today that only prevention of war could save the world from destruction.

At the conclusion of an atomic power conference at Denver university, atomic scientists and laymen declared that international control of the atom bomb was the only way to save the world from an atomic death.

A group of more than 20 scientists who took part in the atomic research project ended a three-day conference with sociology and education experts yesterday. Their findings indicated a dark future if war was again to ravage the world, but a bright future if common sense and understanding was to rule.

Heading a list of recommendations agreed upon at the end of the meetings was the establishment of an international commission for control of atomic energy, as proposed by President Truman and Prime Ministers King and Atlee. Scientists said the "secret of the atomic bomb" was short lived. Dr. Joyce C. Stearns, Washington university professor who aided in the atomic research, estimated that it would take only from three to five years for any nation to discover the so-called secret.

Hitler Plan For Russia Is Revealed

Preparations For Attack Made In December, 1940, Court Is Told

NUERNBERG, Dec. 10.—Adolf Hitler fixed June 22, 1941 as D-day for his attack on Russia on April 30, evidence at the war crimes trial disclosed today.

The Nazi timetable for the attack, disclosing that the German high command actively began preparations for the assault in December, 1940, was placed in the trial record by Sidney J. Alderman, assistant U. S. prosecutor.

German plans provided for dismemberment of Russia. These were drafted by Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi ideologist and specialist on Russia.

His program called for "the total destruction of the Jewish bolshevik state administration without helping to establish a new and comprehensive state system."

He intended to colonize the Baltic states with large numbers of Germans and "after the war has been brought to a victorious close" he proposed to send British settlers into Russia, along with Danes, Norwegians and Dutch.

"In the course of one or two generations," he said, "this area can be joined up with the German nucleus area."

The Germans, it was revealed, hoped to get permission to use the Swedish railroads to transfer troops from Norway to Finland and also intended to bring pressure on Japan, Manchukuo, Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan to cut off supplies to Russia.

Hints of the forthcoming attack were given to Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Slovakia as early as June 1 at which time the high (Continued on Page Two)

FREEDOM FOR OBJECTORS IN PRISON SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Truman was urged today to grant amnesty to more than 3,000 conscientious objectors now in prison for violation of the draft act.

The request was made by a group of prominent Americans in a letter initiated by the American civil liberties union. The group included former secretary of the interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, chancellor of Stanford university; President Daniel Marsh of Boston university; and Bishop Edwin V. O'Hara of Kansas City.

Signers of the letter emphasized that none was a pacifist, but declared that the "number of men now in prison is seven times in World War I and reflects the inadequacies of our provisions for conscientious objectors."

The letter also asked that court martial sentences of conscientious objectors in the Army be reviewed promptly by the war department, and urged establishment of a point discharge system for 6,000 objectors in camps and hospitals.

SCIENTISTS TO PLAN POST-WAR OHIO PROGRAMS

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—A 33-member panel of Ohio's leading scientists will meet here Dec. 17 to make plans for postwar scientific development within the state.

Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott, chairman of the Ohio postwar program commission, selected the group of scientists after consultation with Charles F. Kettering, head of general motors research, and other authorities.

The panel will be known as the science committee of the commission. It will be headed by senator Walcott and will include industrial research scientists, medical practitioners, experts from Ohio's university and commercial research laboratories and from departments of the state government.

Senator Walcott invited Gov. Frank J. Lausche and legislative leaders to attend sessions of the committee.

Former Chief Of Staff Says U. S. Policy Was To Discourage Outbreak

U. S. HAD COMMITMENTS

Marshall Does Not Recall Opinion On Basing Fleet In Hawaii

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Congress' Pearl Harbor investigators resumed their cross-examination of Gen. George C. Marshall at 10:04 A. M. today.

The former Army chief of staff, now special envoy to China, was questioned by Sen. Homer Ferguson, R., Mich.

Asked about his role in the Atlantic Charter conference in August, 1941, Marshall said he and Adm. Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations, met with the British military staff.

"Our discussions were quite general—somewhat in the nature of getting acquainted," he said.

He testified that after he conferred with Field Marshal Sir John Dill, who explained the British military position all over the world, particularly in the Far East. He said they did not discuss materiel because "we had done all we could for them in materiel for a while."

Q. Prior to the meeting did you know what the United States attitude was toward any further Japanese aggression in the Far East?

A. Our policy was in every way it seemed possible to discourage an outbreak in the Pacific.

Ferguson referred to an August, 1941, intercepted Japanese message from Tokyo to the Washington embassy, reporting that Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had sent a warning against an attack on Thailand.

Marshall "presumed" that he knew about the message and about talks between British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt regarding "parallel action" toward Japan.

Q. Did you learn that on Sunday, Aug. 17, the President called the Japanese ambassador to the White House and told him the government of the United States found it necessary to warn Japan that further aggression would (Continued on Page Two)

NEW COLD WAVE GRIPS NATION; WILL CONTINUE

By United Press
Cold gripped the nation from the Rockies to the Appalachian mountains today, and sent temperatures below zero through the Dakotas and Montana.

U. S. weather bureau forecasts called for the cold wave to continue through Wednesday, with continued moderate winds.

From one to three inches of snow fell in upper Michigan, the weather bureau reported, with snow flurries lighter in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio and the Dakotas. Minot, N. D., reported 15 below, and Pueblo, Colo., recorded a low of 13 below with other Midwest temperature readings ranging from 4 below at Mason City, Ia., to 11 below at Alexandria, Minn., and 12 below at Aberdeen, S. compel the United States to take "any and all steps" to safeguard its security?

A. My recollection is that at least the sense of that message was read in my presence in the office of undersecretary of state Sumner Welles about two days later.

Q. Did you ever learn that England had taken a similar step?

A. I do not recall that.

Q. Had you recalled that on Aug. 29, the prime minister made a statement that if the United States was attacked by Japan the British would be in two or three hours?

A. I had a number of discussions. How did you interpret what Mr. Welles said to you? How would it affect you as head of the Army?

A. My interpretation now is that the situation was growing more difficult and the implications were largely economic. I don't recall exactly what my feelings were then. I knew this about the procedure—they were endeavoring to find some way to prevent a rupture in the Pacific without a complete sacrifice of American policy.

Q. Did you take this as the United States policy which you would have to implement?

A. I would assume I did.

Q. Did it change United States policy in the Pacific?

A. I would assume that it did not.

Q. Did it indicate that we had certain commitments?

A. Yes.

Ferguson switched to liaison with the state department. He asked if Marshall had designated a liaison officer.

Marshall replied that there were two "mediums of that sort"—G-2 (intelligence) and the war plans division.

Q. Were you consulted in May, 1940, concerning the basing of the fleet in Hawaii?

A. I am quite certain that I was involved in discussion regarding that movement.

Q. Do you know what your opinion was?

A. I'm sorry, I don't recall. I do recall a considerable discussion on strengthening the Atlantic fleet with units of the Pacific fleet.

Q. Did you know when the fleet was actually prepared for war?

A. No, I have no clear recollection. I knew I was concerned with their getting additional vessels for the "fleet train" of supply ships.

Q. When you sent the war warning to all overseas Army commanders on Nov. 27, 1941, that would necessitate the fleet preparing for war, would it not?

A. The war warning would put the fleet on the alert for action. It was presumed that the fleet as far as possible was in a state of preparation for war. But its actual alert for battle conditions was the purpose of the alert message.

Having accepted his share of any responsibility attached to the fact that Pearl Harbor was caught by surprise, Marshall hoped to wind up his testimony today or tomorrow. He has a plane waiting to take him to China on a special diplomatic mission.

The former chief of staff conceded that he did not intervene when Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short of Hawaii alerted his command only against sabotage rather than against both hostilities and sabotage.

Marshall had warned all Pacific commands on Nov. 27 to guard against hostilities from Japan. He didn't remember seeing Short's reply.

Marshall said he had every reason to believe that the Hawaiian command could have broken up the Japanese attack if it had been properly alerted.

could offer no assurance for safety of civilization in the years to come except by the total disappearance of war.

"If wars are permitted to occur, the atomic bomb will be used. Lacking a world organization, it cannot be outlawed or controlled by national legislation," the scientists said.

"There is no active military defense against the atomic bomb. The most practical defense is simply that of avoiding wars."

88 the number of GM plants closed by the wage-gain dispute. A total of 200,000 workers would be on strike, and another 5,000 office workers would be added to the 50,000 now idle.

While negotiations were renewed by the UAW and General Motors in an effort to avert threatened federal intervention, labor leaders watched Washington for possible White House reaction to the UAW's latest blast against President Truman.

In rejecting Mr. Truman's appeal for a return to work, the GM strikers' conference accused the President of seeking to destroy labor's right to strike.

Mr. Truman has proposed legislation for compulsory 30-day cooling-off periods in major labor disputes to permit a fact-finding investigation in the public interest. During the 30-day period strikes would be illegal and strikers would be subject to federal penalties.

ANNUAL INCOME TAX WORRY DUE

If you now know that the estimate you made last March is far off the beam, you've got to straighten things out by not later than next Jan. 15.

You have your choice of making a new amended estimate or filing by Jan. 15, the regular return which normally would be due on March 15. If it happens that you underestimated the amount of taxes by more than 20 percent, and you wait until March 15 to correct this, you are going to have to pay a six percent penalty on the amount you were deficient.

Farmers were excused from making an estimate last March. They must either make an estimate of their 1945 taxes by Jan. 15, however, or make their regular return on that date. If they choose to make only an estimate Jan. 15, they must pay the taxes by March 15.

So far as the tax forms are concerned, there's little change from 1945.

If your pay was less than $5,000, the simplest way to file your return is to use the withholding tax receipt which your employer must provide by not later than Jan. 31. But you can't use that receipt if you received dividends of more than $100 or if any of your income was from rents on the stock market.

A few slight changes have been made in this form. In 1945, you had to list the names of all those entitled to exemptions—your own and your wife and children. This year, you just list your children. The internal revenue bureau will automatically figure you and your wife as exemptions.

There is another form you can use. If your income was $5,000 or less, you fill out only part of the form and use a table on the back to figure out your tax. The table is based on a flat 10 per cent allowance for deductions such as interest, medical costs, contributions and taxes. If you think your deductions were more than 10 percent, or if you earned more than $5,000, you should fill out the entire form but you can't use the table to compute the tax.

The treasury estimates that out of 48,000,000 returns last year, about 19,000,000 persons used withholding receipts. About 20,000,000 used the table form. The rest used the longer form.

ter, Mrs. Josephine Jackson.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the Holiness Mission, Circleville, and burial will be in Forest cemetery. Friends may view the body at the church, Tuesday after 11 a. m.

DANIEL W. FRIEZE

Daniel Wilbur Frieze, 73, died Sunday at 12:20 p. m. in Berger hospital, where he had been a patient for the past few days.

His brother is the only immediate survivor.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Defenbaugh funeral home. Burial will be in Inler cemetery on route 56 in Salsereck township.

FREDRICK VANSOCY

Fredrick Emerson Vansocoy, 56, of New Holland, died at his home Saturday at 1:20 p. m. He had been ill for seven years. He was formerly a resident of Circleville.

Mr. Vansocoy was born in Ross county, June 4, 1889, the son of Samuel and Mary Stinson Vansocoy.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Mader chapel with the Rev. Lester Fike in charge. Burial will be in Forest cemetery. Friends may call at the Mader chapel.

He is survived by one brother, William Vansocoy, of Chillicothe and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Porter, Mt. Sterling.

of neurosurgery at Oxford university, arrived by air from England today at Mrs. Patton's request and immediately began examining the general.

Press Banned

Doctors and nurses have been warned not to speak to newspapermen concerning Patton, and the hospital grounds are closed to the press. Inside, American soldiers talk freely about Patton, saying he is in bad shape.

The dashing, silver haired warrior was injured shortly before noon Sunday when a 2½ ton U. S. Army truck smashed into the side of his Cadillac sedan outside Mannheim as he was enroute to hunt pheasants.

He was reported conscious and "at least partially like his old self" today. Guards on 24-hour duty were ordered to keep everyone outside hearing distance of his first floor room in the 130th station hospital because he didn't like it when he heard somebody outside the door talking about him.

Hospital reports this morning said Patton was able to move his feet and hands freely. When lifted from the car yesterday, he complained that his feet lacked feeling. A cut on the back of his head has been stitched shut.

Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, Patton's chief of staff who was accompanying him, said Patton fell across his lap in the back seat of the car when the crash occurred and bled profusely from his head wounds.

Others Escape

Gay escaped injury, as did Horace L. Woodring, Patton's driver, and T. S. Robert L. Thompson, driver of the truck.

An Army accident report said the accident was caused by carelessness of both drivers.

The 1938 Cadillac sedan had a smashed radiator and right front fender, and its motor had been pushed back into the body. Blood was smeared on the back seat cushions to head height, and below the seat was a four-inch red pool.

The accident report said the sedan was speeding in a 25-mile zone when the truck, a six-wheeler coming from the opposite direction swung across the road before entering a warehouse. It struck the sedan's middle.

Thompson and Woodring said they failed to see each other in time to avoid the crash.

Maj. Gen. A. W. Kenner, chief surgeon of the European theater, led the staff of doctors at Patton's bedside, seeking the true extent of his injuries.

Heads 15th Army

Patton, known affectionately as "Old Blood and Guts" has been commander of the "paper" 15th U. S. Army, with headquarters at Bad Neuhelm, since October, when he was relieved as commander of the 3rd army after criticism of his military government administration.

The silver-haired cavalier who twirled his twin pearl handled revolvers at the head of American armies from the gloomy days of Kasserine pass in North Africa to the triumphs of V-E day in Germany retained consciousness after the crash.

He was hurried to the 130th station hospital at Heidelberg by Maj. Charles Tucker of the 290th Engineers, an unidentified medical officer and a Red Cross girl. Lt. Col. Paul S. Hills, chief of the hospital's surgical services, immediately began the examination which revealed that Patton had been injured seriously.

Patton was relieved of command of the U. S. 3rd army last October after leading it from the breakthrough at Avranches. In the Normandy peninsula, across France and ultimately to the heart of Germany.

Led Casablanca Landing

Known within the Army before the war as "Flash Gordon" or "the Green Hornet" because of his flamboyant dress and manner, Patton first got international notice when he led the American landing at Casablanca, in November, 1942.

He was summoned hastily to southern Tunisia three months later to assume command of the American 2nd corps after its defeat at Kasserine pass. His stern discipline and constant hammering on offensive action quickly whipped the dispirited troops into a vigorous force which linked with the British 8th army beyond Gafsa.

Patton vanished from public view, to turn up months later as commander of the Seventh army in Sicily. Once again he went into hiding, and nothing of his doings was known publicly until he emerged well after D-day at the head of the 3rd army's armored columns that cut a swathe across France in August, 1944, until they ran out of gasoline before Metz.

should receive the alum precipitated toxoid, which is commonly called "diphtheria shot." Each child who has taken one shot in the past month should have another shot at once.

"Shots for diphtheria should be given by the family physician. If the children can't get them there, the parents may bring the children to my office in the court house and I will be glad to give them the shot to help forestall this epidemic."

"Adults should not take this toxoid. They get too much reaction. The younger the child the less the reaction. Very seldom is there any reaction in a child under 16."

"Only one shot, in 85 per cent of the cases, is sufficient to provide immunization for life. But we do advise that a 'booster' shot also be given to those who have had the one shot because of the threatened epidemic."

"Anyone with a sore throat should see his doctor immediately. Delay means death very often as the mortality rate for diphtheria is very high when treatment is delayed or when no treatment at all is given."

"The family doctor will give anti-toxin in cases which look suspicious. The anti-toxin must be taken early, at the first symptoms. If it is too late no good."

McKinley, the group made a standing vote of thanks and appreciation to the county committee and office force for "cooperation and work accomplished" in the past year.

Mr. Boggs called a meeting of the newly-elected officers and the election of a secretary-treasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer was conducted. Mrs. John R. ## DIPHTHERIA IS FATAL TO PUPIL OF CITY SCHOOL

Flu Keeps Many Students, Teachers Away From Class Rooms

Crady went to the hospital for swabs early Monday.

The swabs were sent to the state department of health for determination of positive cases. Until reports are received Franklin street school will not reopen.

All schools in the city were closed Monday morning until further notice. Notice will be given in The Herald when schools reopen.

All parents are urged to keep their children at home and to observe them carefully. If they are ill consult the family physician at once. Children should not attend public gatherings.

"For the sake of your child's health every parent must cooperate to help control this situation," authorities stated.

The number of schools closed in the county due to the flu epidemic rose to six Monday, although three schools where the situation was still "none too good" were reopened.

The six schools now closed are Monroe, Wayne, New Holland, Williamsport, Duval and Ashville. These schools will remain closed indefinitely. New Holland and Williamsport were supposed to attempt reopening Monday, but could not when the situation was found worse than before.

Two teachers were absent and two who were attending were not well at Monroe school with many pupils absent, forcing the school to close.

Salsereck, Walnut and Perry schools reopened Monday, but the situation was still termed "not good" although the schools will try to continue operation. Walnut reported 94 still absent Monday, but will try to operate. Salt creek reported 55 absent and Perry, 47 out.

"The flu is of a mild kind, not like the severe type that struck after the last war," Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health officer, stated. It is believed to have reached its peak in the state. Two deaths have been reported so far out of the thousands of cases in the state.

The diphtheria, so far, is confined to the city as no cases have been reported in the county, Dr. Blackburn stated.

TIRE RATIONING TO BE SETTLED BY DECEMBER 20

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—The civilian production administration and the Office of Price Administration will decide about Dec. 20, on the future of tire rationing.

Both the tire industry and the agencies are optimistic that the goal of 11,000,000 tires for the fourth quarter will be met. It is estimated that production must reach 4,000,000 a month before rationing can be lifted. It is just about that level now, according to OPA.

There are two factors which might require the continuance of rationing through January. They are possible strikes in the industry and a serious cut in production during the holiday season. Aside from these two contingencies, it appears that tire rationing may end with the new year.

The library of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C. contains more than 860,000 books, pamphlets and charts.

FARMERS URGED TO SAVE FATS

Boggs Points Out Need For Fats To Make Soap, Many Other Items

Urgent need for home and farm collections of used fats continue despite the end of meat rationing, according to John G. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Conservation Association. Although butchers obviously will no longer give red stamps in return for fats, the offer of four cents per pound still remains.

Mr. Boggs announced that Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson had issued the following statement in regard to the continuation of the fat salvage program: "It is just as important now as when fats and oils were rationed, to save and turn in every bit of used kitchen fat. Used fats continue to be one of our most important sources of supply for the manufacture of soap and for other industrial uses. It may be many months before we can obtain adequate supplies of imported fats and oils for these uses."

With the rapid approach of the winter killing season, Mr. Boggs urged Pickaway county farmers to carefully salvage and turn in waste killing fats.

U. S. production of fats and oils this year is expected to run about 9.5 billion pounds. This is 1.3 billion pounds less than 1944, according to available figures.

Stressing the stake each home-maker had in the successful collection of used fats, Mr. Boggs pointed out that fats and oils were needed for the manufacture, not only of soaps and lubricating oils, but in many "hard-to-get" peacetime items, such as nylons, refrigerators, washing machines and vacuum cleaners.

American homemakers have been doing a good job. During the first six months of 1945, a tenth of the total American production of inedible tallow and greases came from used household fats.

Your grocer or butcher will pay you 4c a pound for the used fats you turn in.

If you don't want soap shortages to get worse...

Save More Used Fats!

YOUR country's supply of industrial fats is so low that the government itself has to decide just how much can be released to make soap... and how much for other peacetime goods. If you let up on saving used fats, our supplies will go still lower, and the amount allowed for soaps may have to be cut accordingly. If that happens, you will find even less soap on dealers' shelves!

Don't be fooled just because you can now buy butter, shortening and lard without points. Industrial fats are still very scarce. Keep saving used fats and help speed greater supplies of soaps. Turn yours in and get 4¢ a pound.

BIG 10 RULES NEAR NORMAL

Freshmen May Not Play In Varsity Games After Next Season

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 — The Big Ten athletic conference was back on a near-normal prewar eligibility footing today after ruling several players out of the 1946 sports parade.

Sole exception in its return to before-the-war eligibility standards, the action highlighting the end of a three-day executive session, was a decision to allow freshmen to take part in varsity athletics another season.

The Big Ten again became one of the most strict collegiate conferences in the country when in the matter of eligibility 10 faculty spokesmen tossed out the relaxed standards which prevailed during the war.

The report said that freshmen entering school next fall will be eligible for varsity competition. After that, however, all freshmen must have a year of residence at the school before being allowed in intercollegiate varsity play.

A surprise rule of the conference was that any athlete who played three years of varsity sports at any school before relaxation of Big Ten regulations in Feb., 1943, would be ineligible for further competition as of last Saturday, when the board meeting closed.

This action was expected to knock out of play a host of athletes. Several weeks will be required for Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson to check registrars records at member schools.

Definitely ineligible because of this action were Bob and Ross Hume, Michigan brother-running stars, co-champion conference miler; Campbell Kane, Indiana middle distance runner just back to school, and possibly, star Iowa basketball center Clayton Wilkinson, transferred to Iowa from Utah.

The faculty board, Aigler said, also made ineligible for further competition any athlete, civilian or service trainee who had played four years of varsity sports at a member school. Directly affected by this ruling was Joe Ponsetto, Michigan's 1945 football captain and star quarterback.

Other rulings were that:

1. The Big Ten will return to nine-game football schedules in 1947, and that six games must be played with conference teams. (Ten games were permitted during the war years.)

2. With the end of the 1945-46 season, students with degrees will no longer be eligible no matter how many years they have competed. There are two exceptions to this rule. University of Chicago students operating under a different academic program than the other nine conference schools, and servicemen who received armed forces technical training degrees.

3. The Big Ten's original amateur rule is reinstated.

4. Ex-servicemen, except for transfers, who enter after the 1946 school year, are ineligible for one quarter, semester or term.

5. Preseason football practice may run five weeks, with Summer practice prohibited. A student who played three years of varsity sports at a member school, one or more of those years as a service trainee during the 1943-45 emergency period, will be considered as eligible one more year.

Heads-Up Play

FOOTBALL really went to this grinder's head, as proven by the camera. The headless player is Steve Pritko of the Cleveland Rams. The dim catching the pass is Boris Demancheff, former Purdue star now playing with the Boston Yanks. Cleveland won the game, 20 to 7, played in Cleveland.

BUCKS WIN 47-37

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 10—Ohio State's rugged basketball five built up a 24-15 half-time lead, then suppressed a scrappy Pittsburgh team's late rally to win its first victory of the season here Saturday night, 47-37. It was a combination of Bob Bowen's sharp shooting, which netted the Ohio State forward 16 points, and a tight defense that did the trick for the Buckeyes. Pittsburgh could score only four field goals in the first half.

PICARD IS WINNER

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 10—Henry Picard, who said he came to Florida for the sunshine, picked up $2,000 first money today for winning the Miami open golf meet and indicated he would join other linksmen in the move to Fort Worth for next weekend's tournament.

VETERANS IN NIGHT CLASSES

COLUMBUS — Many returned veterans are enrolled in evening classes of Ohio State University's Twilight School, Director Norval Neil Luxon reports. Under this plan the service men hold full-time jobs during the day, and their evening school expenses are paid by the government under the "G. I. Bill."

land into the wind, just as an airplane does. If a good, strong breeze is blowing, they will nearly always flush directly into the wind. When they gain reasonable altitude, their course is anybody's guess. It may be governed either by the bird's desire to turn around and take advantage of a tail wind for added speed, or by his entirely understandable decision to head for the nearest cover. But regardless of what he does once he's gotten up flying speed, the fact remains that almost invariably, he'll take off into the wind.

George Wright, organist on the "Nick Carter—Master Detective" series Sundays has contracted to record for NBC Thesaurus. He'll be featured in 15-minute transcriptions.

Litten Declared Winner Of Mayor's Race In Ashville Election

DISPUTED VOTE IS COUNTED BY ELECTION BOARD

Write-In Candidate Winner Over Mayor Accord By One Vote

Harry Litten has been certified by the Pickaway county election board as mayor of Ashville.

The decision was arrived at Saturday night when the election board met in its office in the court house to consider an opinion in the case handed down by Hugh S. Jenkins, attorney general of the state.

The attorney general's opinion was that it is not necessary for a voter to place a cross-mark in front of a name he has written for the vote to count and that when a person's surname only was written on the ballot and there was only one candidate by that name for the office, that person's ballot should be counted.

The election board concurred with the attorney general's opinion and ruled that one disputed vote should be counted for Mr. Litten. The voting was tied at 154 votes each with the one ballot in dispute after a recount. Before the first recount, Mr. Litten's opponent, T. R. Accord led by one vote. In the first recount, Mr. Accord gained four votes and Mr. Litten gained five votes.

Mayor Accord was the only candidate whose name was printed on the ballot for the office. Mr. Litten's election came as the result of a hotly-contested write-in campaign conducted by Mr. Litten's friends in both precincts of Ashville.

It was rumored that Mr. Litten's supporters would be so glad to hear the news that Mr. Litten's election has been certified to the attorney general of the state that they would stage a parade, but some of this enthusiasm may be halted by the snow which was falling Monday.

The attorney general's opinion was presented to the election board by Prosecuting Attorney Kenneth L. Robbins.

FOOD DRIVE IS PLANNED HERE

St. Joseph's Church Seeking Food For Hungry People Of The World

With the first peaceful Christmas since 1940 growing near, the fortunate citizens of Pickaway county are beginning to turn their thoughts to aiding the war stricken in Europe and the Far East.

The "Food for the War Stricken" drive which began Sunday under the auspices of St. Joseph's Catholic church is a part of the effort the Pickaway county citizens are making to alleviate suffering in the war-torn areas.

The drive is not merely a local affair, but nation-wide, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Reidy, St. Joseph's pastor, who is heading the drive, stated.

The drive will be held for one week, from December 9 through December 16.

Members of the local church will be asked to give as many cans of food as possible. Contributions to the drive, however, are not confined to members of the Catholic church, as any citizen of the county may contribute.

The drive is for canned goods of all kinds.

In appealing to his church for contributions, Rev. Fr. Reidy says: "Throughout Europe and the Far East, millions of people face starvation this winter unless you and I share what we have with them. Day after day, authentic reports are received from War Relief Services throughout the devastated countries—reports that unconsciously become pleas for aid, reports that reflect a need which has motivated the War Relief Services to turn once more to the people throughout our land to help.

The facts are clear, the pastor continued. "Millions of men and children died last winter in Europe and the Far East as a result of starvation. Millions will die this winter unless help, generous complete, is forthcoming.

"A can, or two, or three, or more, of life sustaining food will mean so much where needed. This is our opportunity to help banish the want and misery which have been the inevitable aftermath of wars," Rev. Fr. Reidy appealed.

Leftover paint should be covered with a coating of paraffin to keep it from drying out and to preserve it in good condition until you want to use it again. Pour paraffin on in the same way you coat jelly or jam with it.
